101 Persons Believed Dead In Alaska Crash

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Scattered debris from a military-chartered airliner was found today 60 miles off the British Columbia coast. There was no sign any of the 101 men, women and children survived.

Search vessel crews recovered life jackets, luggage, clothing and a metal piece at the scene where the Northwest Airlines DC7 apparently plunged into the Pacific.

Discovery of the metal section, 5 feet by 16 feet, seemed to wipe out the last faint hope that the plane might have stayed afloat long enough for use of life rafts.

Monday night a Canadian pilot had sighted uninflated life rafts.

Officers on a Coast Guard cutter at the scene, 60 miles west of Graham Island, B.C., identified the debris as from the plane.

The four-engine plane left McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., at 8:30 a.m. Monday for Elmendorf.

The last message from the pilot, Capt. Albert Olson of Sumner, Wash., came two hours, 36 minutes later. He radioed the air station at Sandpit, B.C., for permission to climb from 14,000 to 18,000 feet.

Another airliner was northbound at 18,000 one minute behind but air control tried to message Olson to go to 16,000. There was no response. After that neither the ground station nor the other plane could contact the DC7.

The missing plane carried six inflatable life rafts with capacities of 20 passengers each. It also carried 100 life jackets.

The Coast Guard said a person could not live in the 40-degree water more than 10 to 15 minutes. Besides the Coast Guard cutter, a Japanese freighter and a seaplane also were on the scene.

The passenger list showed 65 Army and Navy men, 29 dependents and one Air Force civilian. They gathered from all parts of the United States at McChord to start the flight.

The wild coast off which the plane vanished has seen air disaster and near-disaster.

The commission omitted some proposals which it said earlier would be transmitted this year, but SEC Chairman William L. Cary indicated these will be forthcoming later, probably for consideration in 1964.

The proposals filed today would: Extend to thousands of corporations whose stock is bought and sold "over the counter"—instead of on the organized exchanges—the full-disclosure and financial reporting requirements which now apply only to stocks listed on the exchanges.

Tighten the standards of character, training and experience required of persons newly entering the business as broker-dealers, representatives or salesmen, and enlarge SEC's disciplinary controls over broker-dealers and their employees.

Curb to some extent some abuses which have occurred in "hot issues"—new stocks whose prices have soared beyond normal patterns of movement—by requiring that prospective buyers be furnished with prospectuses, giving full financial information, for not less than 90 days after the stock is issued. The present requirement is 40 days.

Millions Mourn Passing of Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The high and the lowly paid homage to Pope John XXII in procession past his bier at the Vatican today, symbolizing the mourning of millions around the world.

The body of the pontiff, 81, who died Monday night after four days of agonizing suffering from a stomach tumor and peritonitis, was to be transferred this evening across St. Peter's Square to St. Peter's Basilica for wider public viewing.

Prelates, diplomats and citizens of Vatican City, including the street sweepers and gardeners with whom Pope John liked to chat, called at the papal apartment in tribute while cardinals began preparations to choose a new supreme ruler for the world's half-billion Roman Catholics.

The cardinals, now administering church affairs, scheduled their first business meeting for Wednesday. The meetings, called general congregations, will be held every day for handling routine affairs and arrangements for the conclave that will elect the new pope.

Vatican press officials said the formal nine-day mourning period will start Wednesday. The Vatican's master of ceremonial set the date, they said, and the cardinals are expected to ratify it in their opening business meeting. This would carry the period through the feast day of Corpus Christi June 13, though it might be interrupted for that occasion.

The Pope's body lay in state in an antechamber. The body was dressed in red pontifical robes, with a golden bishop's miter on the head and red slippers on the feet. The catafalque was low, resting only two feet from the floor.

$17-Million Bid Call On Road Work

The Missouri State Highway Commission will wind up the 1963 fiscal year with a call for bids June 21 on an estimated $17 million in highway construction and improvements.

The call covers 143.7 miles of the state's roads and highways extending into 43 counties and the City of St. Louis. It includes 20.1 miles of interstate system projects estimated at $10,000,000, about 75 miles of primary system and two miles of urban system work estimated at $5,000,000, and for 41.4 miles of secondary (farm to market) system routes and 5.3 miles of defense road work estimated at $2,000,000.

Roads affected in the Sedalia area are: Johnson: Routes D and AB—1.6 miles grading and surfacing from Route AB junction south to Route Y.

Pettis, Benton, Cooper, Morgan and Montau: U.S. Routes 50 and 65—construction of 44 turnouts on U.S. Route 65 from about a mile east of south of the Saline-Pettis county line south to a mile south of Route 52; and on U.S. Route 50 from about 1 1/2 miles east of LaMonte east to three miles east of Tipton.

Johnson: Route D—0.3 mile grading and 20-foot wide bituminous mat surfacing from Route AB, east and north.

Johnson: Route D—3.6 miles grading, bridging and surfacing from U.S. Route 50, about a mile east of Knob Noster, south. Includes a 90-foot precast concrete slab bridge over Long Branch.

Hoffa, 7 Others Indicted On Fraudulent Gain Charges

28 Counts Involve Some $20 Million From Fund

CHICAGO (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamster's Union head, and seven associates were indicted today by a federal grand jury that charged them with fraudulently obtaining more than $20 million in loans from the Central States Pension Fund.

The indictment contained 28 counts and followed two years of investigation by the grand jury and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It charged the eight men diverted more than $1 million from the loans for their personal benefit. The total allegedly diverted included at least $100,000 which the government charged was used to help extricate Hoffa from personal financial involvement.

This included his operations in Sun Valley, Inc., a Florida homes development in Broward County. This included his operations in Sun Valley, Inc., a Florida homes development in Broward County. The indictment accused Hoffa of violating his duty as a trustee of the $200-million pension fund which has its headquarters in Chicago. It alleged he made false and misleading statements to other trustees about persons seeking loans.

It said also that Hoffa used his influence as president of the Teamsters to obtain approval of the loans.

Besides Hoffa, 50, the indictment named: Benjamin Dranow, 55, former Minneapolis department store executive. Dranow is in Sandstone, Minn., prison serving for mail, wire and bankruptcy fraud, and tax evasion.

Abe I. Weinblatt, 67, Miami Beach, Fla., retired business man and associate of Dranow.

Industrial Development Shot In Arm

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Industrial development got a boost in a series of bills passed by the Missouri House Monday.

One measure sent to the Senate is designed to stimulate research. Industries spending more than $25,000 a year for research would get a tax credit for the amount beyond that figure.

Another would set up a commission of five senators, five representatives and five others appointed by the governor to study industrial development in Missouri and other states.

Under another bill passed by a lopsided margin an old age pensioner could live in a $7,500 house and still get his old age assistance. The limit now is $5,000.

Rep. Paul M. Berra, D-St. Louis, appropriations chairman, estimated the bill would cost $4 million and said there is no money to finance it. He was one of three who voted against the bill.

The House killed a bill that would let Missouri continue in the federal manpower retraining program at an estimated cost of $2 million for the next two years.

Passed as a bill which sponsors said would allow state banks to pay a little more interest on idle state funds.

Currently banks can pay 1 per cent interest on time deposits or the state can invest its temporary surpluses in U. S. treasury notes, now paying about 2 1/2 per cent. The bill would put the interest limit within three-fourths of 1 per cent of the rate on U. S. notes.

Pending in the House Banking Committee is a Senate bill that would make the interest rate equal to the rate on U. S. notes.

The most dramatic of events in this movement came last March 7 when Pope John received Alexei Adzhubei, Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law and chief editor of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia. It was the first meeting between a pontiff and an important Soviet Communist figure.

There was speculation at the time that their conversation might result in a visit by Khrushchev to the Pope later this year.

Adzhubei said simply that the Pope and he had "talked about advancing peace."

The Pope had taken at the very outset of his rule in the Vatican a strong and practical anti-Com-

Gas Tax Share Below Estimate

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The matter of gasoline tax funds came before the City Council, Monday night, when the report was given by Councilman E. B. Smith, chairman of the finance and tax committee, after Councilman Carl Meyer, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee had asked approval for the purchase of some materials.

Meyer was asked by Smith to make a report to the council on the program to be carried out by the Twelve Mile Road District with the City of Sedalia to furnish materials. Meyer indicated he would like to have at least fifty per cent of the proposed cost of the materials at this time while further investigation would be conducted as to the work.

The proposal presented by City Engineer Cunningham, is as follows: 0.5 miles, Industrial Dr., Main St. to Highway 50 and 0.5 miles, State Fair Blvd., Third St. to 16th St., road mix asphalt mat; 1.3 miles, and 0.8 miles on Grand Ave., Broadway to North City Limits and 16th St. to 23rd, also Engineer Ave., Missouri Pacific tracks to Tower, all asphalt seal coat; 0.3 miles, Engineer Ave., Tower St. to one block north of cemetery, 0.1 miles 16th St. to 17th, clean out ditches, install culverts, and road mix mat; 0.4 miles, Engineer, 17th St. to 24th St., and 0.4 miles on New York Ave., Broadway to 16th St., asphalt seal coat; 0.8 miles, Harding, 12th St. to Boonville St., road mix asphalt mat; 0.5 miles, Boonville, Engineer Ave. to Heard Ave., clean ditches and asphalt seal coat; 0.7 miles, Main St., Prospect Ave., to Washington Ave., asphalt seal coat; 0.3 miles, Third St., Hancock to Engineer, blading off rough surface areas and road mix asphalt mat; 0.3 miles, 16th St., Barrett Ave., to Limit Ave., 1.0 miles, 16th St., Engineer to Marshall Ave., asphalt seal coat.

The cost of the entire work was $24,730 for materials alone. Meyer was seeking between $10,000 and $12,000 for materials at the present time.

The discussion became involved when Meyer indicated the work would be carried out on routes through the City. City Engineer Robert Cunningham was asked if he had a schedule of the proposed work, and he provided each Councilman with a copy of the project. Some of the Councilmen had received the schedule and some had failed to bring their list with them.

Councilman Smith addressed Mayor Studer with the suggestion that he contact council members and call a special meeting if he desired to iron out the problem as quickly as possible. Inasmuch as Councilman Walter Jessee and Councilman J. C. Griffin, were unable to attend the meeting, he felt they should be contacted when they returned to the city and then have the special session to go over the entire project. The money could be made available at this special meeting, at least half, until more concrete evidence could be obtained on how much money would be available for this particular street program.

Injunction Request In For Appeal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negro attorneys are taking to a federal appeals court their request for an immediate injunction to strike down the segregated school system in racially troubled Birmingham.

Attorney W. L. Williams Jr. said the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans would be asked for a preliminary injunction pending an appeal of a lower court ruling. Notice of appeal was filed Monday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne refused last Tuesday to order school desegregation but warned he would order submission of an integration plan unless school officials administer a state pupil placement law without discrimination this fall.

Lynne held that the complainants in a 1960 suit had not exhausted their remedies under the placement law, which has been upheld at face value by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In another court battle, Lynne heard Justice Department attorneys press Monday for an injunction barring Gov. George C. Wallace from interfering with scheduled enrollment of Negroes at the University of Alabama next week.

Lynne said he hoped to hand down a decision by Wednesday.

The university trustees announced acceptance of a third Negro student for the summer session opening Monday. The trustees said James A. Hood, 26, of East Gadsden, Ala., probably would enroll at the same time Vivian J. Malone, also 26, of Mobile, arrives at the main campus in Tuscaloosa.

The other Negro student is David M. McGlathery, 27, of Huntsville. He plans to enroll at the Huntsville branch of the university.

Wallace has pledged repeatedly that he will stand in the university doors to block the way of any Negro student.

Missourian Heads Up Church Group

BOSTON (AP)—Descendant of a pioneer family that settled in St. Joseph, Mo., in wagon train days, Mrs. Helen Wood Bauman today is president of the Christian Science Church, which now has 3,200 congregations in 43 countries. She was named Monday at the annual meeting attended by 7,000 persons from all over the world.

The soft-spoken woman, who exchanged a career in music for one in religion, now is editor of all the church's publications except the Christian Science Monitor, a daily afternoon newspaper.

She believes the world's most urgent need is: "God-centered thinking... all that is worth possessing, worth pursuing, worth expressing, must be linked with one creator, the one center and circumference of being..."

Although Boston has been her home since 1946, her family roots are still in Missouri. There as a girl she heard her mother tell of faraway Pony Express days. A brother currently teaches engineering in the University of Missouri.

It was her early talent in music that first brought her temporarily to Boston to study and later to London.

She returned to St. Joseph to teach piano, organ and harmony and began service as a church organist—a career she later followed in Kansas City. But gradually, Christian Science grew into a major interest.

In 1946 she returned to Boston for studies and became an authorized teacher of the religion.

CD Budget Plan Creates a Stir

By D. Kelly Scruton

The Civil Defense budget of $14,000 created quite a stir at the City Council, Monday night, with the result that no action was taken other than a discussion as to whether Sedalia desired Civil Defense to continue at all, continue on a limited basis or continue in an all out endeavor.

During the regular meeting of the council, under finances, the budget which actually is divided between Pettis County and the city, with matching funds from the Federal Government. Councilman E. B. Smith, chairman of the finances and taxes committee, produced the proposed budget and told the council the city had an excellent storm warning system due to Civil Defense and contributions from local people who were interested. The city has a fine working organization, but the interest seems to be dwindling to a certain degree, he said.

"I do not want to infer the organization is not good, nor does this discussion reflect on any of the volunteers who have worked hard, or reflect any discredit on the Civil Defense director and his staff. It is a case of whether the citizens, who we represent, want a mediocre, first class or an all out endeavor for Civil Defense," Smith said.

Continuing he said, "The Mayor and several of us went on an inspection trip with the County of the operation in the courthouse where the Civil Defense has an operation in the basement and on the roof. I took it members

Long-Sponsored Bill Would End 'Secret' Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new bill designed to remove the secrecy from operations of government agencies was proposed today by 14 Senators.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., chief sponsor of this "Freedom of Information" measure, said in a prepared statement that "the public is helpless if it can not obtain the facts about its government."

The bill would require each agency to publish in the Federal Register all policy statements, the texts of its rules and the procedures and to make available for inspection and copying all final opinions, statements and interpretations.

The agencies also would be required to make public votes of each member on issues.

The only exceptions from such disclosures would be agencies whose operations are exempt by law from public inspection or where secrecy is vital to the national defense, Long said. Records relating solely to the internal workings of an agency also would be exempt.

He said the proposal is to revise section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act of 1946 which governs the information policies of independent regulatory agencies and several executive agencies.

Ten Democrats and three Republicans joined Long in sponsoring the bill.

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is myself. I am a chronic liar. I am a boy—a high school senior, and I have a good home life. My parents are strict, but not unreasonable. My grades are good and I have some nice friends, both boys and girls. But I can't seem to break this terrible habit of lying.

I don't tell lies that hurt people. I just tell lies about myself to make people think I am important or that I am leading an exciting life. It's not just that I exaggerate. Ann. Sometimes I make up complete stories about things that never happened, places I've never been and people I don't even know.

Please help me because I am getting worse. Once I start to talk I don't know where my sentences will end. I want to be an honorable and respected member of the community, but how CAN I be unless I stop this habit of lying? —NO LAUGHING MATTER.

Dear No Laughing Matter: A person who is so frank about his dishonesty and has such a fervent desire to overcome it has a good chance.

People who lie as you do are insecure and unsure of themselves. They try to build themselves up by overwhelming their friends with fabrications of glamorous exploits.

Such liars are soon found out and nothing they say is believed. They wind up deceiving only themselves, and are scorned or pitied. The next time you start to tell a lie, remember these words—"scorn and pity."

Dear Ann Landers: I came to work in this office seven weeks ago. At present I am living in a rented room. It was the only place I could find when I came to town. I didn't know anyone or where to look. My room is small and I must share the bath with two teenagers.

I took it knowing it was a temporary arrangement.

Last week one of the girls at the office asked if I'd like to move into her apartment next month, after her roommate is married. It sounds like a great place, only 10 minutes from the office by bus and it wouldn't cost any more than my single room because I must now eat all my meals out.

The problem is this: Three evenings a week this girl's boy friend comes over and I'm supposed to "get lost until midnight."

Daily Mail Offers Array Of Facts Worthy of Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

In the quest for slimmness, Americans reduce their bankrolls more often than they do their figures. They spend $300 million a year now on reducing pills and weight-losing nostrums.

It'll be a long time before Uncle Sam gets down to his last buck. The U.S. Mint hasn't coined silver dollars for more than a quarter century but still has 74 million of them on hand.

Wonder if tennis fans know that Egyptians were batting balls across a net 500 years before the birth of Christ?

One of the world's nicest smelling streets is the Rue du Fau-bourg-St. Honore in Paris. Once a year its sidewalks are washed with perfumed water.

After the American Revolution, the portrait of George Washington briefly replaced the king of hearts in decks of playing cards. For a short time, too, Thomas Jefferson replaced the king of clubs, Andrew Jackson the king of spades and John Quincy Adams the king of diamonds.

Our quotable notables: "What is my loftiest ambition? I've always wanted to throw an egg into an electric fan"—Oliver Herford.

Irland Named Project Manager For Iowa Job

Marion B. Irland, 121 State Fair Blvd., chief of land acquisition in the Sedalia real estate office of U.S. Army Engineer District, Kansas City, has been named as the new project manager of the Red Rock real estate office at Knoxville, Ia., where he will be in charge of all the real estate project office at Knoxville.

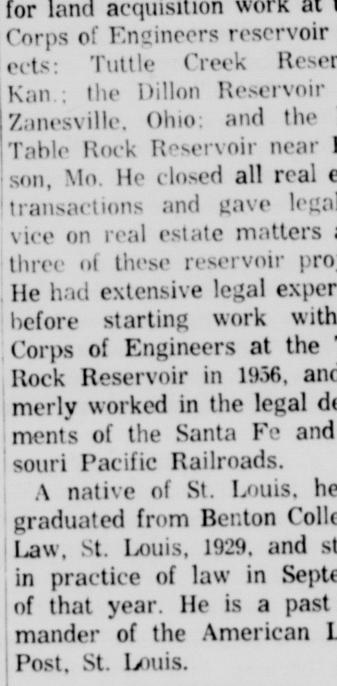

He assumed his new duties at Knoxville Monday, June 3, and with his wife, Maxie, and daughter, Ina Merle, will reside at 1201 Roosevelt, Knoxville, Ia.

Irland, an attorney, has done real estate acquisition work at five U.S. Army Corps of Engineers projects, serving as an attorney for the real estate office of the U.S. Army Engineer District, Sacramento, Calif., in 1961.

He also served as closing attorney for land acquisition work at three Corps of Engineers reservoir projects: Tuttle Creek Reservoir, Kan.; the Dillon Reservoir near Zanesville, Ohio; and the large Table Rock Reservoir near Branson, Mo. He closed all real estate transactions and gave legal advice on real estate matters at all three of these reservoir projects.

He had extensive legal experience before starting work with the Corps of Engineers at the Table Rock Reservoir in 1956, and formerly worked in the legal departments of the Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific Railroads.

A native of St. Louis, he was graduated from Benton College of Law, St. Louis, 1929, and started in practice of law in September of that year. He is a past commander of the American Legion Post, St. Louis.

In Ranks

With Area Servicemen

Yakima, Wash. (AHTNC) — Army PFC Lonnie L. Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell L. Lane, Route 1, Lincoln, participated with other members of the 4th Infantry Division in Exercise COULEE CREST, a 15-day U.S. Army-Air Force Strike Command operation at Yakima (Wash.) Firing Center, which ended May 20.

COULEE CREST was the first Strike Command exercise in the western part of the United States and featured battles for air superiority and live-fire maneuvers between two Army divisions.

Lane, a driver in Combat Support Company of the 8th Infantry's 1st Battle Group at Fort Lewis, Wash., entered the Army in August 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 20-year-old soldier attended Lincoln High School.

During Vacation Period

2-Way Traffic to Resume In Heber Hunt School Area

One-way traffic around the Heber U. Hunt School will give way to two-way traffic during school vacation time. One reason is to help residents residing on Fifth Street west of Limit a chance to reach their homes without having to detour around to either State Fair Blvd. or Sunset Drive.

A parking problem is expected to be cleared up of employees working in the vicinity of Seventh and Warren being denied parking space on Seventh Street so property owners can get into their own property, often blocked by parked vehicles.

A petition was presented to the Council, Monday night, by Councilman E. B. Smith on behalf of the residents of the Heber U. Hunt school area. He requested the one-way streets to be opened up at least until school resumes this fall. The Council unanimously approved the request.

New speed signs are to be erected in the vicinity of the Centennial Park along New York Ave., between 16th and 24th Streets at the request of the Sedalia Park Board. They will be 20-mile an hour signs and will be placed on a 90-day trial basis.

The annual audit of the City of Sedalia will be made by the Arthur Morgan CPA firm in accordance with an approval of the Council. The audit will be made as soon as the fiscal year is completed.

Approval was given by the Council for six fire hydrants in the Thompson Hills addition. They will be located on the southeast corners of the following intersections, Ruth Ann and Highway 50; Ruth Ann and Royal Blvd.; Leone and Royal Blvd.; 11th Street and Royal Blvd.; Ruth Ann and Sylvia; and Ruth Ann and Daryl.

The request was presented by Councilman Robert Bader on behalf of the Fire and Water Committee.

Councilman Smith requested two street lights, to be placed in Hubbard Park as requested by the Sedalia Park Board. Councilman Carl Meyer requested a street light at 1300 East 18th.

Both were approved by the Council.

Councilman Smith brought a drainage problem before the Council which exists in the Woodlawn Addition and along Brushy Creek. Councilman Otis Wiley also brought up the serious condition of a drainage ditch on Sneed in which he reported water has already cut the ditch from six-foot wide to between 15 and 18 feet, water having cut away a large portion of the street and cut away dirt within five feet of the foundation of a residence.

Wiley pointed out, not only the cutting away of the earth in the area but the dangerous condition which has been created. He suggested something be done before it is too late. Wiley said the danger that now exists is that an automobile could easily run off into it and cause injuries to occupants. He indicated it would be cheaper to make some type of correction, even placing red lights along it for warning, than to create a condition which could result in law suits against the City.

Mayor L. L. Studer remarked, "there are other conditions like this in the City."

The name of John Engles was omitted from Street and Alley appointments at the previous Council meeting. His name was presented by Mayor Studer and was unanimously approved as a grade operator.

Councilman Ed Neighbors reported on a bad water condition along the M-K-T railroad tracks at 15th Street. The condition is being investigated by Neighbors and Councilman J. C. Griffin.

Two resignations were read and approved by the Council. They were Police Officer Herb Petree, who resigned due to securing a better position; and U. L. Howerton, as traffic clerk. Howerton is now City Magistrate, an elective office.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin gave a monthly report of activities of the police department as requested by the Council sometime ago. Chief Hamlin asked if this was the type of report desired and he was assured it was.

He reported the police answered 330 calls, made 228 arrests, filed on 208 persons in police court. He also broke down the calls to various taverns 23 in number of which there were six prosecutions and 17 where no prosecution was made by the complainant.

Hamlin was also given approval to give police officers seven days vacation time and granted five days off representing the five main holidays which other City employees are entitled. Approval was also given for the Poundmaster to have a seven day vacation and during his absence an extra man could be hired to take his place.

The following interest coupons were destroyed: two $10 coupons on the Public Parking System; five $16.88 coupons on General obligation Trafficway bond interest; 14 coupons at $10 each on the Public sewers, a total of $194.40.

Attention was called to the "Weed Jungle" on West 16th on property owned by the Missouri National Guard, obtained several years ago by the Guard for a motor pool operation which never formulated. Councilman Wiley told of being called by residents of the area to investigate and see if the weeds could not be cut down. Wiley explained on his investigation he found the area was infested with rats "bigger than your arm" and snakes big and little.

An ordinance rezoning property in the Pacific Heights Addition, East Broadway, was passed recommending the property from R-1 to C-3. It had been approved and recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

A liquor by the drink license transfer was approved for B. A. Fisher who has purchased the Main Street Bar.

A request of the Sedalia School Board to install curb and guttering along the north side of Seventh Street from Warren to Limit was approved. It will be constructed under private contract and under the supervision of the City Engineer Robert Cunningham.

Mayor Studer had a letter from the Downtown Retail Merchants of the Chamber of Commerce which expressed appreciation for the fine parking lots making it possible for customers to have parking area within the walking distance of various stores.

Officers reports approved were: City Collector, Frank Hugelmann, tax collections of $62,955.41; Restaurant and License Inspector, Raymond Whittall, $5; Herbert Wasson for street cuts, $177 and for Plumbers permits, $64.50; L. W. Dickman, building permits, $150 and Electrical permits $94.75; Dewey Houchens, weighmaster, $138.25; Ray Anderson, Airport revenue, $108.77; Lu Parrish, library fines, $77.61; and Chief Ralph Hamlin, police fines, $3,187. A total collection of $66,958.29.

Department bills approved for payment: General and Administrative, $139.34; Fire and Water, $393.19; Gas, Lights and Traffic, $1,554.39; Civil Defense, $114.02; Airport, $67.20; Sewer and Sanitation, $478.45; Streets and Alleys, $3,776.50; Parking and Traffic, $265.84; Lights and Water, $5,501.18. A total of $12,320.06.

6 Millionth Auto To Roll Off Lines

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will build its six millionth 1963 model car Wednesday as it continues its drive to eclipse all previous production records.

Auto production for May, estimated at 715,007 units by Automotive News, a trade publication, was the second highest May total on record. The high was 724,892 set in 1955.

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

It is hoped that this message will be regarded by each individual reader as of personal interest relating to the care and protection of the only pair of eyes each of us will ever have.

Almost without exception we take our eyes and vision for granted. We give little thought to this marvelous and priceless sense of sight until pain, discomfort or failing vision demand attention. Good and efficient vision for a life time require a planned program of eyecare.

Members of the Missouri Optometric Association make the following suggestions to all who are interested in having good vision throughout their normal life span.

Children should be given a careful painstaking examination of eyes and vision at an early age. This is a necessary preliminary to providing visual training or other helps which the child may require. It is also a record for comparisons with future tests which should be made from time to time to insure development of normal skills.

Normal eyes with well developed patterns of seeing are subject to change, especially under stress of much work at near range, illness or adapting to a new job. For these reasons the adult will find it advantageous to continue having careful examinations made from time to time.

The late thirties and early forties are years when eyes and vision must be carefully guarded against deteriorations which lead to trouble in the years ahead. As the years pass and one grows older it is more and more imperative that eyes and vision should be carefully examined every year or two. Neglect and delay are chief causes of impaired sight.

Plans were made to take part in the Sidewalk Bazaar in Sedalia. A card was sent of Mrs. Lyle Biggs, who has been ill.

Mrs. James Gladback presented the third food lesson on "Food Facts and Folklore" and gave a test. A discussion was held.

The next meeting will be at Anderson School with Mrs. Olyn Rugen as hostess. Assisting her will be Mrs. Donald Dick, Mrs. Dennis Duke and Mrs. Wilber Vollrath. The program will be on fire hazards and Father's Day.

Burial will be in the Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The body is at the Gouge Funeral Home, Windsor.

Precautionary Hints For Vacation Times

Vacation time is approaching, and Sedalia Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin, in connection with the June 2-8 observance of Burglary Prevention Week, suggests homeowners take several precautions before departing.

1. Notify law enforcement officers when gone so regular checks may be made. 2. Close and lock all doors and windows, including basement and garage doors. Leave shades and blinds in normal positions. 3. Never leave valuables in the home while away. 4. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn on and off each evening. 5. Have a neighbor or the post office hold mail until return. Get someone to mow the lawn regularly. Newspapers should be discontinued or sent to vacation address.

Guard In Position

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Palatine Guard of Honor put on its rich blue uniforms and plumed busby hats when Pope John died and took up, by custom, stations throughout the Apostolic Palace.

The Palatine Guard numbers about 100. Its members come from Rome's aristocratic Roman Catholic families. They serve without pay at papal functions, taking time off from their regular occupations.

George and a New York City lawyer.

Samuel Hyman, 69, Miami Beach, Fla., a real estate operator in Key West, Fla.

Calvin Kovens, 39, a builder and real estate operator in Miami Beach, Fla.

Zachary A. Strate Jr., 43, New Orleans, La., builder and real estate operator.

The penalty for the 28th count, alleging conspiracy, is five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine upon conviction. The other 27 counts charging interstate fraud provide a maximum of five years and $1,000 for each count.

The period covered in the indictment extends from July 1958 to the present.

Bond for each of the men was fixed at $2,500.

Dranow, George Burris, Hyman, Kovens and Strate, the indictment said, have been principals in, or connected with, companies which have received pension fund loans. The indictment charges they and the other defendants submitted false and misleading information in support of loan applications.

Most of these loans were made on Florida operations.

The pension fund was set up in March 1955 and collects contributions from employers for the benefit of more than 177,000 teamsters in about 20 states in the Midwest, Southeast and Southwest.

Hoffa was accused of influencing the trustees to approve loans sought by the other seven defendants for themselves or others, and with referring prospective borrowers to the elder Burris. Kovens was charged with referring prospects to Dranow.

The Burrises and Dranow are charged with seeking out persons needing loans and representing themselves as being in a favored position to obtain pension fund loans because of their close association with Hoffa.

Hoffa, the indictment went on, used "fraud, deceit, misrepresentation and overreaching" and abused his position of trust by seeking to influence and obtain approval of loans.

The indictment cites 14 loans obtained for the financing of companies or for construction of hotels, shopping centers and other projects in six states—Florida, Louisiana, Alabama, Missouri, New Jersey and California.

CD Budget

of the County Court would like to discontinue the expense, and gathered from their conversation at a recent County Judges District meeting, Pettis County is the only one which contributes to Civil Defense out of 13 counties represented. Certainly we do not want to give up our warning system, and maybe we could operate under a mediocre budget, yet others may want to continue and go out further in sponsoring Civil Defense.

"I would suggest," he said, "Sedalia, the taxpayers, interested in seeing the continuance of the program or who even oppose it, to write or call the office of the Mayor and express their opinions. It would be most helpful to the council in making a most important decision. After all, we do represent the taxpayers and they should have a voice in this problem." Smith concluded.

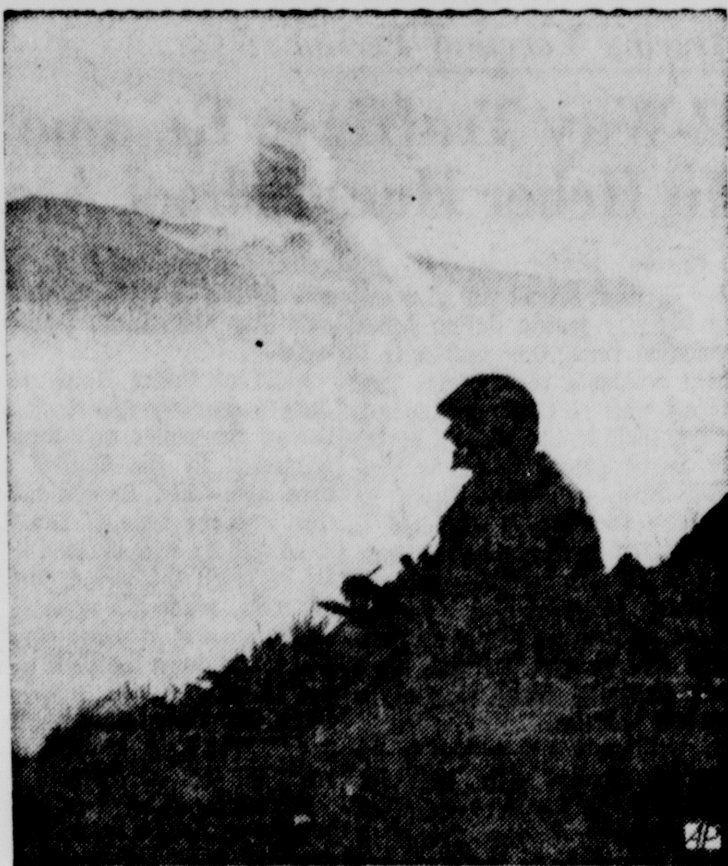

Councilman Wiley took the floor and concurred with Smith in his remarks.

Mayor L. L. Studer said, "I feel the same way as Councilmen Smith and Wiley on the matter. I think the taxpayers should express themselves on whether they want to continue or discontinue the program as far as Sedalia is concerned, especially if the County moves to discontinue participation."

Several times during the discussion among the council members it was brought out the lack of interest in Civil Defense in government in Washington is such it has come out in the press. It was brought out if Congress isn't interested, other than providing money for a project for no one else seems to be interested, then why provide a budget.

It all resolved back to the fact "let Sedalia express their opinions in letters and calls to the Mayor's office" and any other action was delayed to the next Council meeting.

Smith indicated the cost to Sedalia would amount to about $3,700 providing the County also budgets for the proposed budget, but their fiscal year doesn't end until December 31. "That's another problem in setting up a budget in a joint program with the County, termination of the fiscal year," Smith concluded.

'Good Man' Is Theme Of Tributes

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

The tributes to Pope John XXIII came today from the high and the humble, the religious and the not so religious—and they all sounded the same basic theme.

He was a good man.

Scholars and others of future generations may judge the Roman Catholic pontiff and his place in history as a church and world leader. The literal meaning of pontiff is bridgemaker and he was that.

The simplicity of the eulogies bore the imprint left by this friendly peasant's son who became spiritual ruler of a half billion people and walked with the meek.

"He would have been a good man even had he remained a farmer in his northern Italy or become a journalist as he once said he wanted to be," said a news vendor in New York's bustling Times Square.

"He was a great guy," said a Manhattan taxi driver. "They'll have a hard time finding another who'll do as good a job."

Among the high and the low, among people of all religions and people of no religion, it was as if a close friend of the family had died.

Pope John gained popular titles during his brief reign. He was the "Pope of peace," "Pope of unity," and "people's Pope."

To the Italians, he was "John the Good."

He was a good man who radiated goodness above everything else.

President Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, said "his wisdom, compassion and kindly strength have bequeathed humanity a new legacy of purpose and courage for the future."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, an avowed atheist, said, "We shall keep good memory of John the Twenty-Third."

"The good he expressed will be lasting in his own church and in the world," said Helen Wood-Baum, new president of the Christian Science Church.

Albert Cardinal Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, predicted: "Historians will point to this radiant goodness as the key to the understanding of his pontificate as well as his personality."

U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, R-Conn., a Jew, said: "He knew how to achieve progress in dealing with human problems for the common good."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, a Buddhist, said the Pope had become "the very embodiment of mankind's own aspirations in this uncertain period of history."

Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, a leading Protestant clergyman who was an observer at the Second Vatican Council, summed up the tone of the tributes: "Pope John made goodness news."

He was a good man.

Gas Tax

phall seal coat; and fix low water crossing along south side of Centennial Park. Total miles to be worked 8.7 and total estimate of materials to be furnished $24,780. The road district cost in equipment and labor was estimated at $13,550 or a total project cost of $38,330.

After checking the list the suggestion of Councilman Smith ended with Mayor Studer reporting he would make the contacts and would probably call a special meeting to get the proposal ironed out and pass on the money as quickly as possible to take advantage of good weather.

Smith reported the State collection of gasoline tax refund to the City was not quite up to expectations as the Budget estimate last year was set at $72,000 and the amount received was $69,170, $3,000 short of the estimate.

However, Smith told the Council, State Officials had estimated the Sedalia "take" on the tax would be as high as $80,000, but the City budget estimate was dropped to the $72,000 figure.

Smith said he could not understand that four months the City received checks for $4,680 the minimum, when only a few days ago Gov. John Dalton had referred to the success of the gasoline tax being collected by the State and pro-rated to the cities and counties. It was certainly a disappointment to learn the tax money for November, March, April and May was less than the same months under the City tax collection of previous years, being based on the 1960 census.

He produced a letter in answer to his query on the amounts to the Department of Revenue, "but I am still at a loss over the amounts," Smith explained. He contended he would follow the matter up in hopes of obtaining more money or learning "just what had happened, we certainly haven't lost any automobile traffic in Sedalia during those months previous to receiving the tax allotment."

This trait revealed not only strong familial ties but fondness for the journalist's life. Newsman at one of the Pope's early audiences heard him say: "If I had not become a priest I would have been a journalist like you."

Angelo Roncalli kept his love of study and books all his life. His brother Zaverio, 18 months younger, has said that Pope John's memory for the names and faces of home was remark-

Moving Story of Tenant Farm Boy Who Became Pope

EDITOR'S NOTE — Bennet M. Bolton, an AP Vatican correspondent for two years, has followed closely the reign of Pope John XXIII. In the following article, Bolton tells the moving story of a tenant farmer's boy who rose to the most exalted position in the Roman Catholic world. This is the first of three articles.

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In the Bergamo region of northern Italy, they will never forget Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli.

He was the boy who walked two miles a day to and from school. He was the tenant farmer's son who went out into the world.

He became Pope John XXIII.

Now his name is part of history. Between Bergamo and the Alps in the village of Sotto il Monte (Under the Mountain)—his name will live forever.

It will live in a seminary built on farmland that once belonged to his family. It will live in the house where he grew up, which will be transformed into a museum as a memorial to him.

His name will live in the hearts of the thousands of Bergamas who met Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli on his pilgrimages home before he became Pope, and on their own pilgrimages to Rome after he became Pope.

They never forgot him — and he never forgot them.

A priest with a country pastor's heart who suddenly found himself Pope, Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli showed all his life the attributes of his Bergamo upbringing.

It seasoned his personality and marked him before all the world a man of humility and simplicity. The northern farms and green fields were vivid and constant in his thoughts.

Pope Pius XII used to stand still before acclaiming crowds, his arms extended low and motionless in aristocratic pose. Pope John's typical gesture was the gentle motion of upraised palms—the warm greeting of the Bergamo peasant.

The molding of the "Pope of unity and peace" began in rustic surroundings among deeply religious people 30 miles northeast of Milan where the lower Alps begin their climb into skyscrapers of icy rock.

Upon Angelo Roncalli's birth on Nov. 25, 1881, his uncle Zaverio carried him from baptismal font to the Madonna's statue in the Sotto il Monte parish church.

The story in the Roncalli family is that the old man held out the newly christened infant in his arms and said: "This child will become a priest."

Years later, upon the proclamation that Cardinal Roncalli had been chosen supreme pontiff, his brother Alfredo said: "With all the priests they get from this area it had to happen sometime."

In the 1900s Martino Roncalli had brought his family down from the high mountains to the edge of Sotto il Monte — present population 1,800. He drained a bog below the hill, built a small home and tilled the reclaimed fields as a tenant of a wealthy landowner.

His descendants did the same. Angelo Roncalli was the third of 13 children born to peasant farmer Giovanni Battista Roncalli. Ten of them lived to maturity. Angelo was the quiet one in a big family.

His outlook was happy, despite his seriousness, and he never was one to lose his temper. His manner was open, cordial. He was robust, and before his final illness his brothers recalled that they had never known him to be sick.

Uncle Zaverio was a well-read man with a collection of good books. He influenced young Angelo greatly.

Angelo at 6 was serving Mass as an altar boy. He spent three years in the Sotto il Monte elementary school, then began to study under Don Bolis, pastor at the village of Carvico close by.

Father Bolis sent the Roncalli boy to the diocesan school at Celana, near Bergamo.

Angelo Roncalli walked 6 miles twice a day, to and from the school. An enthusiastic student, he narrated

Non-Violence Plan Taught Sit-In Group

EDITOR'S NOTE — An unusual school run by the Congress of Racial Equality in Jackson, Miss., teaches youngsters the technique of non-violence. Students learn how to sit-in, how to picket and how to take beatings.

By JOHN HALL
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — About 25 Negro high school and college students sat in a semicircle in a corner of a large auditorium, intensely watching a "white lunch counter"—two small tables and two chairs.

David Dennis, of Jackson, 22, a field worker for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), conducted a class on non-violence for the youths, training to take the places of other Negroes arrested at lunch counters downtown.

"James is sitting at a white lunch counter. Mrs. Robinson is a white waitress. This is a white agitator," Dennis said.

James Wooten, 16, a Jackson Negro high school student, asked for a cup of coffee. The "waitress", Willie Robinson, 26, of Taylorsville, Miss., gruffly replied: "Sorry, but we don't serve niggers in here."

The "white agitator" CORE worker George Raymond, 20, of New Orleans — rushed Wooten, slammed him to the floor, beating him on the shoulders and kicking at his face.

"No, no. You got too many places open," Dennis interrupted. "You could get a judo chop on the back of your neck. Curl up, pull your knees up, crouch up. Let's try it again."

By the third try young Wooten rolled smoothly to the ground, pulling himself into a tight ball with his hands clasped protectively behind his neck. "That was good," Dennis said. "Any questions?"

"Look man, what if this agitator has a knife?" a student asked. "Well, if he has a knife, there's very little you can do. You can try to run," Dennis said.

"When you fight the individual you're not touching his sin. This is something that has grown up in him since he was a little boy. He's been told to say 'nigger, nigger' all his life."

"You, there, what good can violence do at this time? Why is it so important to use non-violence?" the Negro teacher demanded of an inattentive youth. "Well, we can't gain anything by violence," was the answer.

A hand in the back shot up. "Mainly because we're trying to play on his (the white man's) conscience," a young Negro said. "Right. It's a fight of the righteous against the sinner, and you are trying to fight the sin, not the individual," Dennis said.

The teacher went back to object lessons.

Earnestine Preaster, a 16-year-old Negro high school student, took a seat by Raymond. This time the "white agitator" was white, Steve Rutledge, 22, of Croton, N.Y., student body president at predominately Negro Tougaloo College of Jackson.

Dennis told his class "The white agitator will try to provoke the male into violence by attacking the girl, but he's going to see how you sacrifice yourself for another individual."

Raymond leaped up, his hands behind him. "My white brother, my white brother" he told Rutledge, diverting and absorbing the mock attack on Miss Preaster.

The class moved to lessons on how to picket and participate in mass marches.

Dennis, working with Raymond and Tougaloo student Betty Poole, said 100-150 youths were trained last week.

2,000 Attend Fish Fry at Table Rock

BRANSON, Mo. (AP) — More than 2,000 persons attended the third annual governor's fish fry for members of the recreation industry Sunday at Table Rock State Park.

"You are now the third largest industry in Missouri and you are helping us to be better known and are giving our people places of leisure," Gov. John M. Dalton told the group.

He said recreation played a large part in attracting other industries to the state.

"Every place we have gone on our industrial caravan, people have asked us about recreational facilities in Missouri," Dalton said.

UN: Hope for Peace, Says Sen. Ed Long

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The United Nations remained the world's best hope for peace and we must not leave it or cripple its operations, Sen. Edward V. Long said Sunday.

There are many timorous voices crying out against change, the Missouri Democrat told the 57th annual commencement at Springfield State College.

If heeded, these voices "would lead us to stagnation and possibly even to second class citizenship in a world on the move," Long said. "We must not abandon our world leadership, as costly and frustrating as that role is at times."

Degrees were presented to 315 seniors.

"Oven-flavor" from top-burner cooking

This is probably the most useful utensil made. It's ideal for roasting meats and making stews. A self-basting tight cover eliminates all hand basting. You can cook economy cuts of meat as deliciously as the more expensive meats. Use it for deep frying, as a soup pot, or a general utility kettle. A handy trivet comes with each Magnalite Dutch Oven.

Ordinary soap and water keeps Magnalite gleaming preciously.

Magnalite cooks beautifully on low heat settings — saves fuel bills.

Pope John

From the high pinnacle occupied by the supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, it is difficult to appear at once a great religious leader and a warm human being. Pope John XXIII achieved that distinction in his brief 4½ years as Pope.

Possessed of a winning friendliness, he sought from the outset to invest the papacy with a deep sense of humanity. That he succeeded is attested by the fact that millions of poor everywhere responded to him with great feeling.

Pope John was stoutly orthodox in his Catholicism. But evidently he did not think it necessary to stress this by holding himself and his office austere and aloof.

He did not fear to innovate. He called an Ecumenical Council, only the 21st ever to be summoned in some 20 centuries of Catholic history. He consecrated a bishop, using an ancient Greek rite which was novel to Rome. There were many other such touches.

The warmth of his spirit was felt when he visited prisoners in a Rome jail, when he raised the salaries of many in the Vatican, when he broke the old tradition that the Pope must eat alone.

Not all his changes were liberalizing. Many reforms were, in fact, a return to older largely forgotten ways of doing. In this respect he showed an abiding concern for the historical continuity of the exalted post he held.

Pope John did not forget either that his position gave him rare opportunity to speak to the world as an advocate of peace, of order, of sound morality. His various pronouncements were a powerful force for good in an age that desperately needs that influence.

At 60, Pope John was unknown to the world. Sixteen years later he ascended to the Pope's chair. Many thought his advanced age would make of him a kind of "transition Pope" who would have slight effect on the course of Catholicism and religion generally.

Pope John confounded the doubters. He toiled with great vigor and full heart. His years at the pinnacle were few. But his imprint on the spiritual life of the world was great.

Looking Backward

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS: Numbers Game in Radio-TV. — Congressional hearings on radio and TV rating services have turned up a lot of inconclusive data but general agreement on one point: Nobody is satisfied with the system.

Entertainers have protested the ratings for years—except when they headed the listings. The public, in the rare instances when it spoke up loudly enough to be heard, has cast doubt on the ratings by demanding the revival of programs doomed by the percentage figures. The House subcommittee hearings have produced evidence that the rating services themselves are aware of what one executive incautiously termed "vital weaknesses."

The whole business of judging programs by the numbers would be laughable were it not for the fact that careers and millions of advertising dollars depend on it. Let a program's rating slip and it's dead.

With so much dissatisfaction all around, the continuing power of the rating services is explainable only by the fact that no better system of counting the number of listeners or watchers has yet evolved. And numbers outweigh quality in determining which programs live or die.

But it is probably too much to hope that the broadcasters will soon adopt the suggestion of Dr. Herbert Arkin, a New York professor of statistics who testified before the subcommittee. If there is no really accurate way of counting listeners, said Arkin, "we should drop the whole rating system and trust our judgment."

JFK Not Optimistic on Test Ban

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is quite discouraged over any hope of getting the United States and Russia together on a nuclear test ban. But he believes it so important to stop the nuclear race that he was glad to join with the British in one more attempt to probe the situation with Premier Khrushchev.

The President's discouragement results from confidential cables from the American Embassy in Moscow, plus the reports of Americans who have talked with Khrushchev recently.

One American who knows Khrushchev and who spent six hours with him at the Black Sea came back to report that the atmosphere had changed completely from the relaxed situation which he found one year ago.

Khrushchev reported to this American that he had been led to believe President Kennedy would accept three inspections per year on Soviet soil to see whether Russia had fired any nuclear weapons, and that he, Khrushchev, had urged that this be accepted.

He had experienced great difficulty putting this across with his Security Council, Khrushchev explained. Many of its members had argued that Kennedy wouldn't accept three inspections, and that if Russia accepted this number, the United States would then demand five. And if Russia agreed to five, the United States would demand seven.

However, Khrushchev said, his views prevailed and he got approval of the plan to go for three inspections.

Then the Americans behaved exactly as his Security Council warned him. They refused the three inspections and bargained for seven. Now his advisers were telling him: "We told you so."

Furthermore, the Russian military men and scientists were pressuring him for more tests. Khrushchev said he saw no other way out.

Mystery of The Mix-Up

What Khrushchev referred to was the conversation between Arthur Dean, then head of the U. S. Disarmament Mission, and Vasily Vasilevich Kuznetsov, Deputy Premier, who had been in New York for the UN negotiations over the withdrawal of Russian missiles from Cuba.

Dean, a law partner of the late John Foster Dulles and the man who conducted the tough Panmunjon negotiations in Korea, has been a sincere and persevering believer in reaching a nuclear agreement with the Soviet.

Kuznetsov, who studied at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh, has also impressed Americans as a sincere believer in a nuclear agreement and in peace between the United States and Russia.

Talking in New York last January, Ambasador Dean told Kuznetsov that he believed President Kennedy would accept three inspections per year on Soviet soil. Whether he said Kennedy would accept three or "about three," is not known. At any rate, Kuznetsov got the impression first that Dean was definitely talking for Kennedy and second that three tests would be acceptable, and he so reported to Khrushchev in Moscow.

Dean has since retired as Disarmament Chief, and though a Republican, he remains on good terms with the Kennedy administration. If a mistake was made, it was an honest mistake, and one of misinterpretation. Unquestionably, however, this and the argument which ensued inside the Kremlin, have set back the chances of a nuclear test ban for some time.

When the American visitor who talked to Khrushchev reported the conversation back to the President, Kennedy remarked that the hard line in Moscow had generated a further hard line in Washington.

He referred to the opposition in Congress to any test ban with Russia.

The President is privately doubtful whether he can get a test ban ratified by the Senate if he goes below seven inspections per year.

Many scientists believe that three inspections would be ample. They point out that the United States already has easy ways to detect explosions in the air and under the water, and that underground testing is expensive, limited, and not very efficient.

Many diplomats also believe that if Kennedy had accepted Khrushchev's three-inspection proposal without a lot of haggling, the Senate would have gone along with him. The minute he started dickering, however, the Senate started debating. Now it's too late.

Too Many VIP's

When President Kennedy went to the big birthday dinner in New York he found that President Eisenhower was also at the Waldorf for a dinner, and that Mayor Wagner, worried over security, had closed most of the entrances to the hotel. As a result, the chief entrance used was the Waldorf tower, and its elevators were over-burdened.

In the middle of all this, Kennedy chose to take an elevator up to pay his respects to ex-President Herbert Hoover. Simultaneously, ex-President Hoover took an elevator to pay his respects to President Kennedy.

At about the same time, Gen. Douglas MacArthur took an elevator to pay his respects to ex-President Eisenhower.

And just as this happened, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived at the Waldorf with 100 pieces of baggage.

No wonder the manager of the Waldorf was almost ready to slit his throat.

Violent And Dramatic Week Forecast

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Next week—starting Monday—will be memorable in the history of civil rights in the United States. It could turn into a violent and dramatic week.

Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace seems to think he can keep his state the way it is indefinitely: the only Southern state which doesn't have at least one Negro in its public schools.

On Monday he will try to make good, or so he says, on his promise to keep Negroes out of the University of Alabama. If he tries, he will be defying a federal court order to admit the Negroes.

The Kennedy administration has asked a federal district judge in Birmingham to issue an injunction against any interference by Wallace. The judge will give his decision on that Wednesday.

If Wallace's defiance causes trouble—he says he doesn't want any although the best way to avoid it is to comply with the court order—President Kennedy has troops in Alabama.

They can be used to back up the court order and suppress violence.

In taking this course Wallace has chosen to ignore the history of Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett who last year attempted to keep a Negro, James H. Meredith, out of the University of Mississippi in defiance of a court order.

Kennedy swept him aside with troops and marshals but not until there was a riot and two men were killed.

On Monday—or, if not Monday, then some day next week—Kennedy will send Congress civil rights bills upon which the Justice Department, headed by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, has worked for days.

Since they couldn't be passed this week, even if delivered to Congress this week, they wouldn't have any effect on Wallace, psychological or otherwise. Next week is a different story.

If violence breaks out in Alabama as a result of Wallace's defiance, the impact and perhaps the persuasiveness of the bills if delivered then would be far greater, even on Southern Democrats.

Nevertheless, they won't get through Congress without a fight by the Southerners who can be expected to filibuster against them, although perhaps not as wholeheartedly as in years past.

Democrat Pick-ups

"HOW OLD ARE YOU?" one of the second graders asked of the teacher. "Second graders," she explained, "are always curious of ages," and knowing people as we do we added mentally: "and they never get over it."

Well, she knew it certainly wouldn't be smart to tell her age, and so she replied: "I'm 16."

"She's not fooling me," she heard one little boy comment to the others. "She's older than that. I know she must be at least 22, look at the gray hairs she's getting." — H. L.

THE COUPLE had just come home from the graduation service and were in their living room discussing the weather and the program. They were doing a lot of talking and suddenly a voice from somewhere said: "This is the noisiest house."

The man and woman looked at each other startled. It was spooky to come home, unlock your door, walk in the living room of your supposedly empty house — and then hear a voice — they didn't know where from.

They began to look around and found the woman's mother had come from another town to visit them unexpectedly. found they weren't home so just went in and went to bed.

"Why didn't you let me know you were coming?" said her daughter.

"I like to surprise you once in awhile," she replied, "don't you like surprises?"

"Well, not that kind, exactly," the daughter told her. "I like to know when you are coming."

"I was sure glad you hadn't changed the hiding place for your key," said the mother, and she probably was, because she would have had a long wait in the rather cold weather outside if she hadn't.

But her daughter was mighty glad to have her after she got over that first shock. — H. L.

500 Pints of Blood Lost at a Center

WICHITA (AP) — The loss of 500 pints of whole blood was caused Sunday by failure of refrigeration equipment at the Red Cross regional blood center in Wichita.

The center serves a large area in south central Kansas and north central Oklahoma, and the center sent out an urgent appeal for help.

Ninety pints were sent from substations at Bartlesville, Okla., and Great Bend, Kan.

By Sunday night other shipments were received by air from St. Louis, St. Paul, Minn., Springfield, Mo., and Lawrence, Kan., making a total of 336 pints available at the center.

Bob Gadberry, chairman of the center, announced an accelerated drive would be conducted for donors to replace the lost blood.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Woman Loses Weight But Now Can't Lose Pill Habit

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — My doctor prescribed a reducing capsule containing amphetamine and prochlorperazine. I lost 20 pounds in three months but I can't give up the capsules although my doctor wants me to. I just can't seem to do my work without them. What should I do?

A—Amphetamine (Benzedrine) stimulates your metabolism and thereby helps you to lose weight. It is habit forming and prolonged use may lead to insomnia and fainting. Prochlorperazine (Compazine) is a tranquilizer and like other tranquilizers is not without danger. Both drugs are obtainable by prescription only. No one should allow himself to become dependent on any drug unless, like insulin for diabetes, it is needed to compensate for a definite deficiency.

If you get eight hours of restful sleep every night and eat a balanced diet, you should be able to do your work. If you are not, your doctor should make studies to determine the real cause. He is right in wanting you to stop taking these two drugs.

Q — What should I use to disinfect clothing and bedding after a sickness in the family or after children have dragged blankets on the floor? I know bleach is effective on cotton but what about synthetic fibers?

A — Unless there is some special hazard such as tuberculosis, typhoid or smallpox, household textiles are sufficiently disinfected by thorough laundering and hanging in the sunlight to dry.

Q — I am 75 years old. A few years ago I had pernicious anemia and lost a lot of weight. I have been getting injections of vitamin B-12 ever since. My blood count and weight are back to normal and the interval between injections is longer. Will I have to continue these shots indefinitely? Could they cause any side effects such as a rash on my ankles?

A — Since your blood count has returned to normal you are now getting what is called a maintenance dose of the vitamin. Your doctor will determine how much you need by making periodic checks of your blood count. Since this disease can be controlled but not cured you should continue under your doctor's care indefinitely because the complications of pernicious anemia when inadequately treated may be crippling. No side effects have been reported from the use of vitamin B-12. Your rash must be due to something else.

DEAR POLLY — If you want to glue two pieces of wood together and do not have the right clamps, apply glue to both pieces and rub the glued sides together until the glue begins to set. The pieces will hold just as well as if you had used clamps.

Motorists who drive to and from work in a car that sits outside all night, collecting rain, mist or fog on all the windows, can treat themselves to carefree, easy-vision trips. The next time you have a wiper blade replaced, save the old one. Just a few seconds spent wiping off rain or fog from your windows with the old blade before you get into the car may save a life — maybe your own. — E. R. G.

DEAR POLLY — I make circles of red yarn, about an inch in diameter, and keep them close to the ironing board. When I iron something that needs mending, I slip one of the circles over the hanger with it. You could use a different color to indicate only buttons missing. This is a good reminder and makes it easier to pick them out when you have time to mend. — MRS. A. W. N.

DEAR POLLY — Even the most careful among us often come up with a snag in a good suit or dress. I discovered a way to mend these snags so they are almost invisible. I take a piece of adhesive tape and press it very carefully with my finger over the wrong side of the material over the snag or tear. I see that the frayed edges lie down on the tape evenly and smoothly. After passing it down carefully, I take a very fine thread of the same color and sew across these frayed edges, always pushing the needle straight down, then straight up until it is all securely fastened to the tape. One cannot use a running stitch because it does not produce small enough stitches. I defy a tailor to make a patch any better than mine. — MRS. A. B. S.

DEAR POLLY — An old necktie may furnish bright silk to pipe a child's dress or jacket. — MRS. M. D.

DEAR POLLY — We use our warm coffee grounds to help scour sticky, greasy pans. Simply empty the grounds into the dirty pan. Let the pan stand while you clear the table or stack the dishes. Then wipe it out with several thicknesses of newspaper. Discard the messy paper, and the pan is ready for the scrubbing pad, minus grease and sticky bits.

Extra change purses from old handbags make fine emergency sewing kits to carry in your purse. Equipped with a thimble, tiny scissors, needle and thread, they are easy to handle and use. I embroider a small flower or sew a bow to the outside to make mine easy to spot when I open my purse.

JANE

DEAR POLLY—I used to have a lot of trouble with limp and wrinkled waistsbands in skirts and dresses. Now I use iron-on tape on the inside of the entire waistband. It keeps the band smooth and wrinkle-free.

MRS. A. R.
DEAR POLLY—I always wear a hat which is bright-colored or distinctive in style when my family attends a fair, carnival or parade, so my children can easily find me in a crowd. This also works well when you are in charge of a large group of children.

The Mature Parent

From Small Beginnings

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our 4-year-old girl doesn't give her older brother a minute's peace. He can't sit down in a chair without her running over to him and pushing at him until he lets her have it. I've seen her deliberately walk up to him and throw dirt in his face. He is 10 and is much kinder and more patient with her than I think he ought to be. But she is her father's favorite. . . .

Answer: Her father seems to admire aggressiveness.

Is he a man who tries to be nice to everybody? When your daughter was a baby, did he make a big point of her littleness and weakness to her brother? When she began to grab at her brother's toys, did he suggest that big brothers must honorably refrain from any attempt to protect themselves against baby sisters and make it impossible for your son to learn how to use his strength to control your daughter's aggressiveness?

Many parents make it impossible for older children to defend themselves against younger ones by just such premature sermons on "honor," "kindness" and other eminent virtues.

Then, when the older child seeks to please the sermonizing parents by pretending not to mind getting shoved off his chair by younger children, the parents feel a secret contempt for him.

The father who has preached chivalrous restraint toward baby sister's grabbings, secretly thinks, "Ye Gods, what a sissy Billy is turning out to be!" He feels contempt for the very tolerance and submission he has commanded. And he expresses it by making baby sister his "favorite."

Any parent who finds himself favoring a bullying child is wise to ask himself, "Why do I admire aggression?"

Usually, we admire an aggressive person's disregard of other people's rights because we've been required to disregard our own. We've been educated to think of our compliance as "kindness," "patience" or "understanding."

We cling frantically to our belief that our fear of resistance is evidence of our special sensitivity and moral superiority.

It is at this point that we may develop an intense favoritism toward an aggressive child. We'll feel secret delight in a 4-year-old daughter's fearless grabbing at anything she wants, and not realize that our delight in her is envy.

Little League Season Kicks Off Here With Large Parade

About 500 Youngsters Registered

With unparalleled energy and enthusiasm, Sedalia's Little Leaguers kicked off their 1963 season Monday afternoon and evening.

The activities began with a parade through downtown Sedalia at 4:30. According to police, "three blocks of kids" took part in the march down Ohio Street, escorted by police with help from firemen. Nearly 500 boys are registered to play in the various leagues.

Accompanying each team was its queen, elected by the players. The queens will reign over Little League games and activities for the year. The queens are as follows:

American Legion Post 16, Miss Duanda Toliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Toliver, 413 North Engineer; Elks, Miss Linda Lockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett, 903 South Grand; Jaycees, Miss Patricia Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. ## Elks, Adco Take Opening Night Little League Wins

It was baseball weather in Sedalia last night as crowds enthusiastically watched the opening games of the Sedalia Little League.

In major league play at Little League Stadium in Liberty Park, Elks beat Moose 17-10 with Don Crank taking the honors as winning pitcher and Daryl Riggs taking the loss. In the second game, Adco rolled past Lions 11-3. Wayne Goosen was the winning pitcher, Pat Robertson took the loss.

Centennial Park, located near East 16th Street, was the site for "A" League play. In the opener, Adco topped Lions 9-1 under the 15 strike-out pitching of Park Denny. Denny allowed 2 walks. The losing pitcher was Gary Whitfield, who got 5 strike outs and gave 5 passes. Four of Adco's 9 runs came on a bases-loaded home run by Tommy Brown.

In the second game of "A" play, Elks trounced Moose 15-2. Steven Gray was the winner, with 7 strike outs and 9 bases on balls. John McFarland took the loss, with 6 strike outs and 9 walks.

"B" Team play at Housel Park was marked by a spectacular last inning for Post 16, scoring 11 runs in the last inning, but still going to defeat at the hands of Sedalia Ice, 14-12. Charles Mecum took the win; Wyatt Jackson the loss.

Housel Park is also the site for "C" team Little Leaguers. Post 16 slipped past Sedalia Ice 5-4 in opening night play. It was John Gates taking the win and Greg Boehne the loss in a real squeaker of a game.

The same number of games are scheduled each week night for the remainder of the week. A complete schedule of major league, "A", "B", and "C" league games will be published in Sunday's Democrat-Capital.

Five Americans In Second Round Of Walker Cup

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Five American Walker Cup stars moved into the second round of the British Amateur golf championship today and three of their teammates attacked first-round matches which appeared likely to further Uncle Sam's assault on the 1963 title.

First of the 20 matches that will complete the first round on the 6,936-yard, par-72 St. Andrews' Old Course paired Bob Gardner, 42, of Essex Falls, N.J., against Dick Smith of Scotland. Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N.C., met M. C. Douglas of Scotland, and Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, N.C., one of the favorites, was matched with James Pirie of Scotland.

Comfortably past their dangerous first rounds were U.S. Amateur champion Labron Harris Jr., Stillwater, Okla.; Dick Sikes, Springfield, Ark.; Ed Updegraff, Tucson, Ariz.; defending British Amateur champion Richard Davies, Pasadena, Calif.; and Downing Gray, Pensacola, Fla.

These five and nine other Americans won Monday and Maj. Matt Tatum, Birmingham, Ala., advanced on a bye. Nine other amateurs from the United States were defeated.

Fifteen other Americans, including the three Walker Cuppers, were on today's card. The original field of 250 will be reduced to proportions which can be handled in one day by Wednesday. All the seven rounds leading to Saturday's 36-hole final are over the 18-hole route at match play.

Weber Pitches Shutout For Mizzou Tigers

COLUMBIA (AP)—Keith Weber pitched a five hit shutout in the opening game of the NCAA District 5 playoffs Monday as Missouri's Big Eight baseball champions defeated St. Louis University 16-0.

The Tigers needed only to win another game today to qualify for the NCAA finals in Omaha June 10-14. A St. Louis victory would force a doubleheader.

Rich Peterson, who has a 7-0 record, will start for Missouri and Jim Butler, 1-0, will start for St. Louis.

The best the Missouri Valley champs could get from Weber was Dave Ritchie's triple in the eighth. It wasn't until the seventh that a St. Louis runner reached second base.

Athletic's Pitcher, Bill Fischer, Will Visit Safeway Store

Baseball fans, especially those of the Kansas City Athletics, are invited to the Safeway Store, Fifth and Kentucky, Thursday afternoon to meet one of the A's pitchers — Bill Fischer. He'll arrive at 2:45 o'clock and remain as long as a baseball fan is around to talk baseball.

Wilson's Packing Co., is sponsoring the Athletic player visit to several stores throughout Central Missouri. Sedalia is the last stop on the Thursday tour, the reason why he can have more than an hour's visit with the fans here.

It will be a big afternoon with Fischer giving autographed photos to those who want them. But the item of great interest to the kids will be the giving away every few minutes of baseballs.

Who Goes to Russia?

Control of Track Explodes As Conference Nixes AAU

NEW YORK (AP)—The war for control of track in this country exploded anew today, with the United States team that will oppose the Russians in Moscow in July caught squarely in the fall-out.

In the latest move in the alphabet soup battle, the nation's largest college conference, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, in effect ruled that its athletes should not compete in the national Amateur Athletic Union track championships, where the U.S. team for Russia will be picked.

In California, there were indications the powerful Big Six Conference would follow suit, and Payton Jordan, who will coach the U.S. team against Russia, said the move might cancel the trip to Moscow.

Jordan, Stanford coach, said he had not seen the ECAC announcement "but I consider it a possibility that our meet with Russia in July could be cancelled if we would have to take a sub-standard team. I know the Russians would not want a hollow victory. They want to meet our best. If we can't send our best, I doubt the Russians would want us to come."

The AAU levelled a charge that the colleges, who are battling the old amateur organization for track control, are out to wreck the American team and will be glad to do so.

Asa Bushnell, ECAC commissioner, promptly denied the charges and said his group wanted its athletes to compete in the AAU nationals "but we want them to do so under procedures established" at a peace negotiations session with Gen. Douglas MacArthur March 12.

The AAU also said that only one college athlete so far has entered the national championships, C. K. Yang of Formosa, the decaathlon world record holder who is not eligible for the U.S. team.

The AAU also called for a new ruling on the dispute from General MacArthur, who patched up the shaky peace that exists between the AAU and the U.S. Track and Field Federation, the rival group sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Col. Earl Blaik, former Army football coach who was spokesman for MacArthur during the original peace talks, said if either side wanted a ruling it should submit a specific bill of facts, and ask for a ruling. He pointed out that no such request is currently before the general.

In his last communication on the dispute, the general said the differences between the two sides "are more apparent than real and there would be little cause for quarrel were it not for the emotional reflexes involved."

The latest flareup came when the ECAC reversed its field and asked its members to stay out of AAU championships unless the AAU asked the Federation for sanction.

The AAU contends that this is dual sanction, and flatly refuses.

College athletic directors in the area immediately said they would comply with the ECAC request, and pull their athletes out of AAU meets, including the New York Athletic Club games next Saturday.

Pinky Sober, attorney for the AAU, said the Federation "is out to wreck the AAU and its clubs, even to the extent of decimating the U.S. team against Russia. And they hope for that, so they can claim the AAU couldn't field a proper team against Russia."

Bushnell denied the charges and said the group's message "was a clarification of existing regulations, not a directive setting up new restrictions."

He said the group wants "four athletes to compete in the AAU championships and all other open meets, but we want them to do so under procedures established by the U.S. Track and Field Federation following General MacArthur's March 12 ruling."

This, in effect, bars competition from meets not having ITFF sanction.

Tom Hamilton, executive director of the Big Six, one of the nation's most powerful track and field conferences, said in San Francisco:

"We are members of the Track and Field Federation and it's our understanding that a track and field athlete from Federation institutions can compete, but the meet should have the sanction of the organization to which we belong—a sanction which can be obtained. Unless a meet has Federation sanction, our athletes are not supposed to participate."

The AAU nationals are scheduled for St. Louis June 20-21. The U.S. team for Russia will be picked there.

If the colleges boycott the meet, the U.S. team will probably be overwhelmed by the Russians, who have never yet beaten an American men's team. The Colleges control most of the top runners at the shorter distances.

Runner-up Player Tapped by Scouts

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Wilmington, N.C. won the championship, but center fielder Paul Dicken, of the runner-up Manatee, Fla. team, was chosen by professional scouts at the National Junior College championship game Monday night as the player most likely to succeed in professional baseball. Dicken batted .403 in six games here.

Pitcher Ken Widman of the Long Island Aggies of Farmingdale, N.Y., was named the tourney's most valuable player.

Adco, Freese Score First Wins In Babe Ruth League

Adco topped Hillcrest Lanes, and Freese Dairy trounced Brown Auto in opening night play Monday in the Sedalia Babe Ruth League. Play got underway at 6 p.m. in the season opener at Liberty Park Baseball Stadium with a good crowd in attendance.

In the first game, it was Adco 3 runs, 4 hits, 2 errors, with Hillcrest 1 run, no hits, 3 errors. Jim Thomas, the winning pitcher for Adco, pitched a no hit game, tossing over 14 strike outs, giving up 3 walks, and leading his team in hitting, making 2 of his team's 4 hits. Mike Vansell, the loser, allowed 4 hits, 2 walks, and struck out 10. Hillcrest scored its lone run in the 5th on 2 walks and an error.

In the second game, Freese Dairy had 10 runs, 4 hits, no errors, while Brown made only 2 runs, with 2 hits, and 2 errors. The game went only 5 innings instead of the normal 6 because of the score.

Jim Filleietti was the winning pitcher for Freese, striking out 10 and giving up 6 walks. The loser was Mike Keele, who struck out 6 and walked 6.

Scheduled for play tonight are Western Auto and Demand in the first game; Optimist and Rotary in the second. There are no games scheduled in Babe Ruth play for Wednesday night.

A complete schedule of Babe Ruth games will be published in Sunday's Democrat-Capital.

Hitters Late In Catching The Hurlers

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Hey— isn't it about time the hitters started catching up with the pitchers?

This season's trend of the men on the mound dominating the men with the bats continued Monday night as three right-handers strongarmed their way to impressive victories in the only major league action.

Fireballing Dick Farrell of the Houston Colts became the latest to threaten the no-hit barrier, holding the Los Angeles Dodgers hitless for 7-1-3 innings in a 2-1 triumph over the slumping National League contenders.

The 20-game loser of last season, backed by rookie Rusty Staub's first big league homer, finished with a two-hit job and the Dodgers finished with their fifth straight loss.

Eddie Fisher turned in a four-hit shutout as the Chicago White Sox climbed to within five percentage points of the American League lead with a 4-0 decision over the Los Angeles Angels.

Dave Wickersham also threw a four-hitter, pitching the Kansas City Athletics to victory over the Minnesota Twins 4-1. The Twins' only run was unearned as they fell to the A's for the sixth time in seven games this year.

Farrell, picked off the Dodger roster by Houston for $125,000 in the 1961 expansion draft, allowed his former club just three walks before the no-hit spell was broken with one out in the eighth inning.

Dick Tracewski was the culprit, with a clean single to center. Then in the ninth, Jim Gilliam led off with a triple and eventually scored on Tommy Davis' sacrifice fly, ruining Farrell's shutout effort.

The burly fast-haller now is 5-6. Staub connected for a 400-foot shot following a walk to Carl Warwick in the fourth for the decisive blow off Don Drysdale, who struck out 13 and gave up seven hits in seven innings as his record fell to 6-6.

The loss dropped the Dodgers in to a third-place tie with the Chicago Cubs, four games back of

Belmont Stakes Shaping Up As Two-Horse Duel

NEW YORK (AP)—The Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday is shaping up as a two-horse race or what could be billed as the third and rubber clash between the winners of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

That would be, of course, Chateaugay and Candy Spots with the winner likely to gain the title as 1963 champion three-year-old in addition to first money from the $125,000-added purse.

With a small field in prospect for their rubber meeting in this last event in racing's triple crown, there promises to be no excuse for either camp. The Belmont is at a testing 1 1/2-mile compared to the Derby's 1 1/4 mile and the Preakness' 1 3/16.

At the moment there are only five other prospects for the Belmont and some of those are doubtful. The five: Get Around, Top Gallant, Tom Cat, Insurrection and Outing Class.

San Francisco and two behind St. Louis.

Despite Fisher's fine pitching and their rise in the AL standings, the White Sox' victory at Los Angeles proved costly. Joe Cunningham, their slick-hitting first baseman, broke his right collarbone when he tripped over first running out a grounder and is expected to be out at least two months.

Fisher's shutout came in his first complete game in nine starts this year and boosted the White Sox into a second-place tie with Baltimore. They are five points behind New York in the decisive percentage column although they have a one-half game edge on the Yankees on a won-lost basis.

Stellar List Of Stars In Golf Tourney

WICHITA (AP)—A stellar list of college golfing stars from across the nation is building up for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's championship tournament at Wichita June 14-22.

This will be the first time the tournament has been held in Kansas and the University of Wichita is host. The site is the Wichita Country Club, where pure is 70 over a 6,700-yard layout.

The tournament has attracted entry forms or letters of intent from 43 colleges and universities. Thirty-three will send four-man teams.

The University of Houston, winner six times in the past seven years, is sending most of the same crew that won at Duke University last spring. They are Kermit Zarley, the 1962 individual champion and medalist; Mark Hopkins, who was eliminated in the quarter finals last year; Wright Garrett, and Fred Marti.

Another prime entry will be North Texas State of the Missouri Valley Conference, which won the Southern Intercollegiate tournament this spring. North Texas has defeated Houston, Duke and Oklahoma State, the three teams which finished ahead of it in last year's NCAA.

At least four entrants have won state amateur tournaments — Johnny Stevens of Wichita, Billy Womack of Georgia and Ken Folkes and Jay Sigel of Wake Forest.

Stevens won the Kansas title in 1960 and 1961. Womack has won the South Carolina title twice. Folkes won the North Carolina championship last year and Sigel has won the Pennsylvania title.

Western Illinois, Tulsa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Oklahoma City U. and Kansas State are among the schools sending teams or individual entries.

Practice rounds are slated for the first two days. An East-West four ball match and a long-driving contest are on tap for June 16.

Qualifying rounds are June 17-18. The field will be cut to 64 for 36 holes of match play on each of the next two days.

Distance Mark Discovered For Pole Vaulters

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—When Jeff Chase pole vaulted 28 feet, 8 inches at a track meet held recently at his alma mater, San Jose State, no one got particularly excited.

However, he may have started something.

Chase used the fiber glass pole, of course, in bettering the official world's record.

But he wasn't going for height.

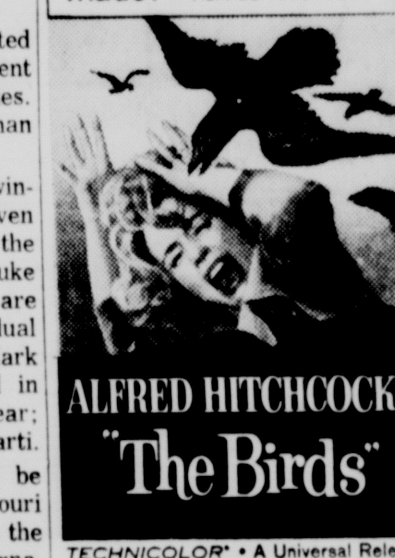

He was going for distance. Pole vaulters using the fiber glass or biter haven't gone 28 feet up yet, and probably won't for another year or so.

The old record for distance was established at 28-2 Oct. 31, 1910 by Platt Adams at an indoor meet in New York City. The reason it stood for over one-half century was that the event went out of fashion soon afterwards.

Bud Winter, the San Jose track coach, discovered the mark in some dusty record book and decided it would be easy to improve.

Three more records belonging to the legendary Platt Adams are listed inside. They are 32-4 for the standing hop, step and jump without weights, and, surprisingly, 32-8 with weights, both achieved in 1910. The other is 103-7 for nine standings jumps with weights, set in 1911.

Second Juco Crown For Wilmington, N.C.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) Right-hander Wray Ware struck out 12 and allowed only six hits Monday night as unbeaten Wilmington, N.C., beat Manatee, Fla. 9-2 for its second National Junior College baseball championship in three years.

Ware's triumph was his sixth straight season and his second—both against Manatee—in the tourney.

His mates backed him with nine hits and flawless fielding as the Florida team surrendered three errors and a wild pitch that contributed to five unearned runs for the champions.

This is no Tom, Dick or Harry Collins

No indeed. This is far from ordinary.

First of all, it's made with whiskey. Best of all, that whiskey is 7 Crown.

7 Crown has a very special quality of taste. How special? Consider this: More people like 7 Crown than any other whiskey in the world.

Just try it. It makes any drink glow with good taste!

Flying Ozark

Preacher Dead

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The Flying Preacher of the Ozarks, the Rev. Floyd Hitchcock, is dead after nearly 40 years of ministering to the people of this area in "person and by radio."

He conducted radio broadcasts called "Faith of Our Fathers" for 30 years on KWTQ and a similar program for four years before that on KGBX.

The Rev. Mr. Hitchcock was a non denominational minister.
On Sundays, he would fly for his services — sometimes needing landing guidance from church members who directed him with sheets. He operated the "Faith of Our Fathers Bible Camp," near Lake Springfield.

He died Monday. Survivors include his widow, three sons and five daughters.

Seek Shorter Week

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) —
State senators were confronted with a forest of legislative traffic signs when they arrived at the Senate chamber Monday.

About 75 wives of state policemen were manning the gallery in a show of support for a shorter work week for their husbands.

Many carried signs similar to those which state troopers place along the highways—but with a difference.

"Vote carefully—the trooper you save may be mine."

"Seat belts save lives—reasonable hours save wives."

The wives were backing a bill that would reduce the maximum work week of state policemen to 50 hours.

TV Specials
On Life Of Pope John

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The three major television networks paid reverent tribute to Pope John
XXIII with special programs
Monday night.

Although he was credited with "creating a new image of the papacy," and his official achievements were stressed in each program they all emphasized the kindly, gentle qualities that made him the most beloved Pope of modern times.

All networks obviously had access to the same picture material so there was much duplication in the three programs.

There were films of the Pope visiting a children's ward in a hospital with delightful closeups of the expressions on the faces of the children and the smiling old man. He was shown visiting prisoners in a Roman jail, explaining that "because you could not come to see me, I came to see you."

But it was ABC which had the most revealing film clip—a warm and wonderful moment when his correspondent, John Casserly, greeted the Pope formally and the spiritual ruler of half a billion Catholics responded by asking him
the names

Heber U. Hunt Teachers Will Vacation at Home

The teachers at Heber U. Hunt School seem to think there is no place like home, at least the greatest percentage of them—for that is the way a number of them plan to spend their summer vacation of three months.

One of the stay-at-homes is John T. Thomas, 1000 South Murray, principal of the school, who expects to sell insurance. If he doesn't do that, he said, he will look for another job, but he wants to sell insurance and knowing his popularity, he shouldn't have any trouble doing that.

Among those who plan to stay home this summer and probably do an endless lot of things they want to do and need to do are: Miss Hazel Barnett, 501 West Seventh, who teaches the second grade; Miss Edith Coney, 1020 West Fourth, third grade teacher; Mrs. Rosemary Coxon, 2213 West Second, fifth grade teacher; Mrs. Estelle Ellis, Hughesville, fourth grade teacher; Melvin Gulick, 1010 East Fifth, special education; Miss Florence Hert, 1914 West Fourth, music; Mrs. Mabel Howe, 420 West Broadway, sixth grade arithmetic; Mrs. Martha Speaker, Ottaville, social studies, sixth grade and Mrs. Maxine Wendt, 2206 West Fifth, substitute teacher.

Mrs. Rena Tevis, Route 2, Hughesville, who teaches grade three, is going to stay home, too, but she has a special job to do—she is going to raise pigs. Mrs. Lorraine Cross, 209 East Sixth, grade 4 teacher, but for a while she will be busy teaching, too, since she is going to help at a church school. Donald Brown, 2513 Highland, teacher of seventh grade science and physical education, will remain in Sedalia and work, while Mrs. Leonora Lewis, Ottaville, who teaches seventh grade reading, has no definite plans, she is just going to wait and see what might come up that she would like to do.

Phillip Burford, Jr., 1004 South Grand, fifth grade teacher, who followed his late mother's profession in the teaching field, is going to spend the summer in his father's line of work—building—he is going to build himself a new house.

Miss Marion Keens, 1008 South Massachusetts, who teaches first grade, is an artist, and she expects to spend the summer doing the thing she likes to do most, painting. Mrs. Nada Rhodes, 305 West Fifth, first grade teacher, will stay home and work, and Mrs. Betty Murrell, 1406 State Fair, school nurse, plans to work at Bothwell Hospital during the summer. Mrs. Imogene Peoples, 1103 Herold, elementary remedial reading, will attend the NEA convention.

Some of the teachers are planning to take trips, though, Mrs. Opal Boeschen, Cole Camp, first grade teacher, is going to spend the summer at the Lake of the Ozarks and will also go to Miami, Fla. Jewell Foster, 611 West Fourth, fourth grade teacher, is going to a summer camp on the Lake. Mrs. Grace Buchholz, 1320 West Fourth, sixth grade English, will go on a trip to Minnesota; Mrs. Merle Repper, Route 1, Smithton, seventh grade art, will go to Chicago; Miss Nell Longan, 516 West Seventh, third grade teacher, will take a trip but she doesn't say where—nevertheless, she knows it will be fun.

Mrs. Mary Gardner, 2211 West Fifth, first grade teacher, will go to summer school to work on her Master's Degree; Miss Barbara Freund, 1412 New England, second grade teacher, will teach summer school; Mrs. Juanita Lindheim, 1202 West Broadway, grade five, who has resigned, will attend summer school to work on her MA; Mrs. Charlene Bunker, 1701 South Warren, second grade, who has also resigned, will take a trip to St. Louis.

Mrs. Nellie Wild, 620 South Massachusetts, secretary, is going to the State of California, to visit her son, Dr. Robert Wild and family.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, soapy, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.
